

JCI World Debating Championship 2011

Friday morning 8 JCI teams were ready to participate in the JCI Debating Championship. The debating competition was chaired by Vice President Lesley Young from JCI United Kingdom. During the day we heard a lot of interesting and intense debates between teams from different countries. For example, JCI Turkey advocated that it should be compulsory for JCI members to tweet every day. JCI Catalonia was against this argument. The two finalists, JCI Scotland and JCI Norway, advocated equality between men and women and primary education respectively. The winning team of this Debating Championship will be announced at the Award Ceremony on Saturday evening.

& Basketball Football Championships

As for the football tournament, Romanian team has become the champion after beating the team from the Netherlands. Teams from Catalonia, Finland, Switzerland and Turkey also took part in the football championship and they had a lot fun and shared a day full of friendship and laughs.

On Friday morning JCI members from many countries took part in the football & basketball (3x3) tournaments. Catalonia team won the basketball tournament, however, the other teams (Estonia, Germany, Sweden and Turkey) played very well too.

JCI Solidarity

German Night International Party

On Friday night we experienced another great party....JCI Germany presented their country very well and everybody could taste their sausages, bread or soup and drink a German beer and Jaegermeister. Thanks to the open space the music was heard from anywhere so people were chatting and dancing at the same time and having a good time.
